Web/Computer Based Literacy (Health) Training for Jordan Downs Residents

Jordan Downs is a Los Angeles Housing Authority project in which over 660 family units reside. Unemployment exceeds 65%, high school completion rates are under 50% and health issues such as diabetes, hyper-tension, obesity and substance abuse are far above acceptable levels

The Jordan Downs effort targets literacy in five primary areas: health, academic, employment, financial and computer. In addition, the project provides computer repair & maintenance training along with free computers for residents.
